CORPORATE GOVERNANCE POLICIES

SHAREHOLDER COMMUNICATION & CONTINUOUS DISCLOSURE POLICY

SHAREHOLDER COMMUNICATION

The Board is to ensure that the shareholders are informed of all major developments affecting the Company. For so long as the law requires, shareholders will be entitled to elect to receive the Company's annual report by email or post, and may also request copies of the Company's half-yearly and quarterly reports.

It is the Company's desire that shareholders receive communications electronically in the interests of the environment and constraining costs. In an endeavour to drive this objective the Company has a policy of providing hard materials at least cost (which will generally involve a black & white presentation even where the electronic version is full colour).

The Company encourages shareholders to attend all general meetings of the Company.

The Company must maintain a website on which the following information is to be available on a regular and up to date basis:

1. Company announcements (for last three years);
2. information briefings to media & analysts (for last three years);
3. notices of meetings and explanatory materials;
4. financial information (for last three years); and
5. annual reports (for last three years).

CONTINUOUS DISCLOSURE POLICY

The Company's Board is to ensure that the market is properly informed of all information that must be disclosed under the ASX Listing Rules and the Corporations Act.

Every person who is at risk of being involved in the Company contravening its continuous disclosure obligation arising in respect of particular information must ultimately take responsibility for ensuring compliance.

There must at all times be a system in place to collect and process information (Material Information) that could conceivably enliven the continuous disclosure obligation. In doubtful cases disclosure should be made immediately.

Where it is determined that information should be conveyed to the ASX it will be the Disclosure Officer who will be the point of contact with the ASX. Except in extraordinary circumstances the Company Secretary will be the Disclosure Officer.

The obligation to keep the Disclosure Officer fully informed of any significant internal issue relating to or affecting the Company is central to the training and development of all the Company employees and contractors and consultants.

Every person shall be accountable for ensuring that:

1. all staff reporting them do, as soon as reasonably practicable, report any 'material' event or development within their area of responsibility to their manager and to one or more of the Chair and/or Company Secretary;
2. each department or work area within his or her division or area of responsibility carries out, or is involved in, a review to discuss and agree upon the types of events or developments that are most likely to be 'material' and potentially required to be disclosed, and
3. he or she reports immediately any event or development that he or she believes may potentially be the subject of the continuous disclosure obligation.

An employee of or contractor to the Company must not discuss material information outside the Company unless he/she is required to do so in the discharge of his/her duties.

The Company is to place all relevant announcements and other information, including analysts' briefings, on its website once the information has been given to ASX and the usual acknowledgment has been received that the announcement has been released.

The Company's directors, employees, contractors and consultants are also required to ensure that all Material Information is not released to some shareholders or analysts but not to others.

As a listed company, the Company must not release information that is for release to the market to any person until it has given that information to the ASX and received an acknowledgment from the ASX that it has released the information to the market (Listing rule 15.7).
